

NOW SAFE IN PRISON

Washington Marshal Takes In the Wratten Family Slayers.

Colonel Conger Interviewed at Kokomo—Indiana Presbyterian Synod This Week—State Items.

SAFE IN PRISON.

Washington Marshal Takes Three Men for the Wratten Butchery.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 7.—The Washington marshal, who arrived here early this morning with three farmers, whom he arrested yesterday on suspicion of being implicated in the butchery of Denison Wratten's family in Davison county two weeks ago. This atrocious crime is fresh in the minds of the public, the six members of Wratten's family, including his aged mother and three-year-old child, having been victims of a night attack for the sake of robbery. Bloodhounds tracked the murderers to Jasper, and then lost all trace. Since then strong circumstantial evidence has been piling up on two neighbors of Wratten, and yesterday the marshal drove to the scene of the crime and arrested Oscar Brown and Alvin Williams. He then drove to the house of William Kaye, near Jasper, and took in his three prisoners without a struggle. The marshal did not return to Washington, fearing mob violence, but drove to Huntington and took a train for Jeffersonville and lodged the subjects behind the prison gates for safekeeping until they can have a hearing. The officer says, while the evidence is purely circumstantial, he believes he has the right men, and is able to show that the trial. Kaye has a brother in the prison doing a life sentence for murder.

One of the Men Has Squealed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—The three men arrested at Jeffersonville, charged with the murder of the Wratten family, will be kept there until the excitement here is abated, and it is considered safe to bring them back. It is understood that one of the men, "Bill" Kaye, has made statements to the officers implicating a man on whose suspicion has rested since the murder. Other arrests will be made.

COL. CONGER TALKS.

He Says the Industrial Situation Is No Better than for Months Past.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 7.—Col. A. L. Conger, president of the American Plate-glass Company, with plants at Kokomo and Ellettsville, with a capacity of 1,400 skilled men, and who is largely interested in a score or more important manufacturing enterprises, has little hope of speedy improvement of business in the industrial line. In an interview in a local paper, Colonel Conger stated his views as follows: "For the first time in more than a quarter of a century, the Democratic party has the President and a majority in both branches of the government, and for the first time since the erection of our manufacturing plants we stand without a single order on our books. A year ago we had orders on our books sufficient to run our factories day and night for six months. The general depression and lack of confidence among business men and manufacturers seems to extend from one end of the country to the other, and is manifest about by a lack of confidence in the present administration. It is now nearly two months since President Cleveland called his Congress together, and yet nothing has been accomplished toward bringing about needed financial legislation. On the other hand, Congress has commenced its session on the tariff laws of the country, which makes the situation all the more critical. The immense Democratic majority, after sixty days of opportunity, has hardly shown to the people that it is incapable as ever of making laws and dictating the policy of a great nation. "So far as the plate glass works in Indiana are concerned, we have started few men at work to finish some glass in process of manufacture. When that is done we shall do as every other manufacturer must do, and wait until the Democratic party is going to do with the important questions they now have under consideration. "Colonel Conger called attention to the fact that a great many factories, whose starting up was heralded in the Democratic press with bold headlines, were merely started to work on a small scale, and would then close. The large manufacturing establishments of the United States carry from $50,000 to $500,000 worth of raw material on hand, and the owner desires to turn it into stock and if possible sell it before the Democratic party produces still harder times. Most of the works which have been reported as starting up have started in that way.

SYNOD OF INDIANA.

Presbyterians Will Hold Their Annual Meeting This Week.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 7.—The Terre Haute Presbyterians are preparing to entertain not less than 150 delegates to the eleventh Annual Synod of Indiana (old and new school), which will meet here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. There are 311 churches, 250 ministers and 1,185 elders in the State, with a church membership of 38,100. Last year the church gave $112,000 for benevolence and $40,000 for building and current expenses. The amount for home missions was $23,000, and all of this was kept in the State, Indiana being an exception in the fact that it does not send its contributions for home missions to the national board. One of the matters to come before the synod is a proposition to elect a superintendent of home missions and the employment of several evangelists. The program for the meetings of the synod include a meeting of the synodal home mission committee, on Tuesday, at 1:30 P. M. The opening sermon will be delivered that evening by Rev. J. E. Putnam, of Logansport. The devotional exercises Wednesday morning will be led by the Rev. E. B. Newcomb, of Laporte, after which there will be a business session. The delegates will go to Coates College for lunch, which will be followed by addresses by the Rev. E. C. Ray, of Chicago, secretary of the board of college and the Rev. Charles Little, who is canvassing for funds for the college. The young ladies of the institution will then give an exhibition in gymnastics and other communication services at the Central Presbyterian Church at 4 P. M., conducted by the Rev. Dr. M. L. Haines, of Indianapolis. The subject for the popular meeting this evening will be "Foreign Missions," with addresses by the Rev. Dr. O. Smith, of Evansville; the Rev. G. H. Hench, of Evansville; the Rev. B. N. Hancock, of Bloomington, and the Rev. Dr. Thomas Marshall, of Chicago. The Rev. J. H. Sharrard, of Rockville, will lead in the devotional exercises Thursday morning. A business session will follow, and after lunch in the parlors of the church, the subject of "Home Missions" will be taken up, led by the Rev. Sol. C. Dierker, of Ellettsville. This will be the last of the synod, and there will be an elders' meeting, led by J. A. Mount, of Shannondale. The subject of the evening meeting will be "Our Young People." Addresses will be made by the Rev. A. Pfadt, of Shelbyville; the Rev. F. M. Hood, of Indianapolis; the Rev. Dr. J. A. Bond, of Indianapolis; the Rev. Dr. E. C. Scott, of Bloomington, and the Rev. Dr. Spinning, of New York.

WHY THE SMALLPOX RAGES.

Manic Doctors Who Insisted that No Smallpox Existed in the Town.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 7.—There was one new case of smallpox reported, to-day, and one death. Matthew Savage, aged seventy, died at Hospital No. 1. Miss Jennie Westlake is the new case. She is the second member of the Westlake family to take the disease. Last night an all of to-day a large number of the physicians, the health officers and Council committee have been in consultation with a view of controlling the epidemic of continuing the disease. The epidemic began, and which has resulted so disastrously to the city. There have been over about 135 cases in all and fourteen deaths, and it seems that it is high time that all were aroused alike to the seriousness of the situation. Dr. Jackson, the city health officer, has worked hard, both day and night, since the disease was first discovered by him and his efforts have resulted in keeping the pest to a remote part of the city where it originated except in a very few cases. A few ill-advised and croaking doctors have convinced a bad element in the city that smallpox is no smallpox, and it is these who refuse to be vaccinated, and on several occasions have met the doctors especially engaged for that purpose with shotguns and driven them off. Every inducement has so far failed to induce these people to be vaccinated. The first case of smallpox, from the State Department, has been reported by Mayor Brady. A letter from Governor Matthews accompanied the check, stating that allowance will be made weekly, and the amount will be five dollars to the needs of the city. The donation will not pay the expenses incident to fighting the disease, but it will assist materially and will be a welcome relief to the finance committee.

GLORIOUS FOOTBALL

DePauw Unable to Cope with the Illinois Champions.

Game at Crawfordsville Ends in a Knock Down and Drag Out—Butler Easily Defeats Earlham.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 7.—The University of Illinois team, which holds the championship of Illinois, and enjoys the distinction of having beaten some of the strongest teams of the West, played a game of football at this place to-day with the DePauw eleven. The game has been looked forward to with interest, as it would afford a means of judging the ability of the team supported by DePauw this year. The Chicago team beat Washburn last Saturday 60 to 0. To-day's game resulted in a 4 to 0 victory for DePauw. The game was one of the closest ever played at Greencastle and abounded in many brilliant plays on both sides. For DePauw left half back Dunn is developing into a star, and right end Walker, though playing his first game, has a brilliant future before him on the "gridiron," as has the other end, George Doe. Captain Whitcomb played his old position, left tackle, and well maintained his well established reputation as the best in the State. Many of the champion players were new to the game, as were the majority of the Indians, but Illinois well maintained her reputation. The two eleven lined up as follows:

The game was played on a field of hope of winning the great decisive game with Butler at the home grounds next Saturday, which will, however, be necessarily a closely contested game and is being awaited with intense interest. WILL NOT FIRE ON RIO

De Mellos Agrees to Suspend Bombardment of the City.

So Long as Peixoto's Guns Remain Dismounted There Will Be a Truce—Seypos Shot to Pieces.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Peixoto, of Brazil, has consented to dismount the guns in Rio de Janeiro, and Admiral De Mellos, commander of the insurgent fleet, has agreed not to fire on the city so long as the guns remain dismounted. This word was received from Commander Pickens, of the cruiser Charleston, now in the harbor at Rio de Janeiro, last night. This agreement was, it is believed, brought about through the efforts of the representatives of the foreign powers at Brazil. For the last week the foreign ministers have been trying to bring about an arrangement to save the Brazilian capital from destruction at the hands of the rebels and, according to the foregoing official dispatch, have been successful for the present, at least.

The proclamation of Admiral De Mellos, the leader of the Brazilian revolt, to his fellow-citizens, has reached this city. It bears the date of Sept. 6. The Admiral says that he is not a rebel, but a patriot, who led to the revolution, and says that the President of the Republic armed Brazilians against Brazilians merely in order to satisfy his ambition and to strengthen his power for the future, by terror, his iron dictatorship. Continuing, the proclamation says: "He opens the coffers of the public treasury to a band of adventurers who are engaged in a war of robbery and murder. Self-willed power reigns everywhere. The nation is anxious to see the day when the government will degrade it; the time is therefore come for the reconquest of rights that were suppressed and trampled under foot. The reconquest administration descends to every abuse. To struggle to not see our country degraded and thrown down, to fight for the principle of liberty, to hand down to our sons the name and honor of the ancestors who made free the government of Brazil—this is the position in which we find ourselves. We are now engaged in the field of revolutionary action to offer battle to the annihilators of the Constitution and to restore the rule of law, order and peace. That the Brazilian nation assume possession of its sovereignty and know how to direct it within the limits of the republic, this is my desideratum; this is my supreme purpose. Long live the Brazilian nation, long live the republic, long live the Constitution."

MUTINOUS SEPOYS.

Eleven Killed in Front of Cannons and Blown Into Eternity.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Calcutta to-day says that serious disturbances occurred at Cabul, the capital of Afghanistan, previous to the arrival there of the mission under the command of Sir Mortimer Durand. The assistant commander-in-chief, it appears, abused a Sepoy of the Herat regiment, upon which the regiment was enraged, and they killed their rifles and fired a volley, killing the assistant commander-in-chief. A terrible disturbance followed. The mutinous Sepoys fled from Cabul, but were pursued and captured by the Amer's loyal troops. A number of the mutinous Sepoys were tried by court martial and sentenced to be blown to pieces from field guns, which sentences were promptly carried into effect. All troops at Cabul were thrown into a state of alarm, and the execution of the eleven Sepoys, and it was found necessary, previous to the arrival of the Durand mission, to make all the Amer's troops swear on the Koran to behave well toward the coming of the British mission. The disturbance does not seem to be at an end, as Gen. Faramus Khan has been ordered to make further arrests.

A dispatch from Cabul, dated Oct. 5, from the special correspondent of Reuters' Telegram Company, with the news that the mission, the mission, escorted by a body of horsemen, arrived safely at the Amer's garden at 11 o'clock on the date the dispatch was received. At the garden the mission was received by a high official, and was saluted by a guard of honor drawn up in front of the reception room. The Amer's mission was dressed in a brilliant uniform, received the British officers and led the way to the reception room proper, which was a sort of open veranda with a glass roof, and the mission entered the Amer's garden, surrounded by fifty of the most distinguished officers, was awaiting the coming of the visitors. The Amer was dressed in a blue frock coat, light trousers, and extended a most cordial welcome to the representatives of the government of India. All the Amer's officers, as printed in the Amer's bulletin, held American flags, and the Amer's mission was surrounded by a band of British and Afghan musicians. After half an hour of conversation the mission retired. The Amer said he hoped he would see the British officers in the morning, and all to drive and walk where they pleased.

SWINDLER DE FRANCE

He Had a Letter from Cashier Bosson, of the Bank of Commerce.

Under the Name of Cameron Elliot He Is Alleged to Have Raised Large Sums of Money.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.

"It is true that we gave Cameron Elliot, who is supposed to be identified with the forger, Stonewall J. DeFrance, a letter of introduction to the St. Paul National Bank," said Cashier Bosson, of the Metropolitan National Bank, to-day. "We did so on the strength of a letter of recommendation from Cashier Bosson, of the Bank of Commerce, of Indianapolis. We simply gave Elliot a letter introducing him to the St. Paul bank, and not suggesting that he should be given any credit whatever. We would not have given 20 cents on his letter of credit from Indianapolis."

The Chicago police authorities are of the opinion that Stonewall J. DeFrance, who was arrested in Detroit, is the man who swindled lawyer Jacob Newman out of some thousands of dollars last February. DeFrance was arrested, charged with defrauding the Flour City National Bank, of Minneapolis, and the St. Paul National Bank, of St. Paul, a year ago. The total amount said to have been obtained from the Minnesota banks is over $100,000. He then, it is alleged, gave the name of Cameron Elliot, and represented himself as secretary of the International Land Investment Company, of Indianapolis. He carried letters from the Metropolitan National Bank, of Chicago
